DETAILED ACTION

Drawings

1. The drawings have not been checked to the extent necessary to determine the presence of all possible minor errors. Applicant's cooperation is requested in correcting any errors of which applicant may become aware in the figures.

Specification

2. The specification has not been checked to the extent necessary to determine the presence of all possible minor errors. Applicant's cooperation is requested in correcting any errors of which applicant may become aware in the specification.

Election/Restrictions

3. Restriction to one of the following inventions is required under 35 U.S.C. 121:

I. Claims 1-5 and 7-10, drawn to a headgear system (claims 1-5, 7, and 8) and a headgear system (claims 9 and 10), classified in class 359, subclass 13 (e.g., head up display products).

Art Unit: 2629

II. Claims 11-15 and 17-20, drawn to a method of displaying an item of information (claims 11-15, 17, and 18) and a method of displaying an item of information (claims 19 and 20), classified in class 349, subclass 11 (e.g., methods of superimposing visual information on an observer's field of view).

The inventions are distinct, each from the other because of the following reasons:

4. Inventions I and II are related as product and process of use.

The inventions can be shown to be distinct if either or both of the following can be shown: (1) the process for using the product as claimed can be practiced with another materially different product or (2) the product as claimed can be used in a materially different process of using that product. See MPEP § 806.05(h).

(1) In the instant case, the process for using the product as claimed (in claims 11-15 and 17-20) can be practiced with another materially different product (of claims 1-5 and 7-10).

For example, the process as claimed (in claims 11-15 and 17-20) can be practiced with another materially different product (of claims 1-5, 7, and 8) not including at least:

"a headgear system comprising: a headgear with an upper headgear portion for being worn on a user's head and a lower headgear portion extending from the upper headgear portion for extending forwardly relative to a lower front portion of the user's head and below the users eyes; and a display assembly mounted inside the headgear of the headgear system to the lower headgear portion for being located below at least one of the user's eyes," as claimed in independent claim 1 (lines 1-7); and

"the display assembly being configured to be adjustable by the user while the headgear system is worn by the user for changing an orientation of the viewing display and the direct viewing optics," as claimed in independent claim 1 (lines 16-18).

For example, the process as claimed (in claims 11-15 and 17-20) can be practiced with another materially different product (of claims 9 and 10) not including at least:

"a headgear system comprising: a headgear for being worn by a user; and a display assembly having a viewing display mounted to the headgear of the headgear system, the display assembly being configured to be adjustable by the user while the headgear system is worn by the user for changing an orientation of the viewing display," as claimed in independent claim 9 (lines 1-6).

(2) In the instant case, the product as claimed (in claims 1-5 and 7-10) can be used in a materially different process of using that product (of claims 11-15 and 17-20).

For example, the product as claimed (in claims 1-5 and 7-10) can be used in a materially different process of using that product (of claims 11-15, 17, and 18) without at least:

"a method of displaying an item of information to a user comprising: providing the user with a headgear having an upper headgear portion for being worn on the user's head and

a lower headgear portion extending from the upper headgear portion for extending forwardly relative to a lower front portion of the user's head and below the user's eyes; and mounting a display assembly inside said headgear to the lower headgear portion below at least one of the user's eyes," as claimed in independent claim 11 (lines 1-8); and

"the display assembly being configured to be adjustable by the user while the headgear is worn by the user for changing an orientation of the viewing display and the direct viewing optics for viewing," as claimed in independent claim 11 (lines 16-19).

For example, the product as claimed (in claims 1-5 and 7-10) can be used in a materially different process of using that product (of claims 19 and 20) without at least:

"a method of displaying an item of information to a user comprising: providing the user with a headgear for being worn on the user's head; and mounting a display assembly having a viewing display for displaying the item of information to the headgear, the display assembly being configured to be adjustable by the user while the headgear is worn by the user for changing an orientation of the viewing display for viewing," as claimed in independent claim 19 (lines 1-7).

5. Restriction for examination purposes as indicated is proper because all these inventions listed in this action are independent or distinct for the reasons given above and there would be a serious search and examination burden if restriction were not required because one or more of the following reasons apply:

Art Unit: 2629

- (a) the inventions have acquired a separate status in the art in view of their different classification;
- (b) the inventions have acquired a separate status in the art due to their recognized divergent subject matter;
- (c) the inventions require a different field of search (for example, searching different classes/subclasses or electronic resources, or employing different search queries);
- (d) the prior art applicable to one invention would not likely be applicable to another invention;
- (e) the inventions are likely to raise different non-prior art issues under 35 U.S.C. 101 and/or 35 U.S.C. 112, first paragraph.

Applicant is advised that the reply to this requirement to be complete must include

(i) an election of a invention to be examined even though the requirement may be traversed (37 CFR 1.143) and (ii) identification of the claims encompassing the elected invention.

The election of an invention may be made with or without traverse. To reserve a right to petition, the election must be made with traverse. If the reply does not distinctly and specifically point out supposed errors in the restriction requirement, the election shall be treated as an election without traverse. Traversal must be presented at the time of election in order to be considered timely. Failure to timely traverse the requirement will result in the loss of right to petition under 37 CFR 1.144. If claims are added after the election, applicant must indicate which of these claims are readable on the elected invention.

If claims are added after the election, applicant must indicate which of these claims are readable upon the elected invention.

Should applicant traverse on the ground that the inventions are not patentably distinct, applicant should submit evidence or identify such evidence now of record showing the inventions to be obvious variants or clearly admit on the record that this is the case. In either instance, if the examiner finds one of the inventions unpatentable over the prior art, the evidence or admission may be used in a rejection under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) of the other invention.

6. The examiner has required restriction between product and process claims. Where applicant elects claims directed to the product, and the product claims are subsequently found allowable, withdrawn process claims that depend from or otherwise require all the limitations of the allowable product claim will be considered for rejoinder. All claims directed to a nonelected process invention must require all the limitations of an allowable product claim for that process invention to be rejoined.

In the event of rejoinder, the requirement for restriction between the product claims and the rejoined process claims will be withdrawn, and the rejoined process claims will be fully examined for patentability in accordance with 37 CFR 1.104. Thus, to be allowable, the rejoined claims must meet all criteria for patentability including the requirements of 35 U.S.C. 101, 102, 103 and 112. Until all claims to the elected product are found allowable, an otherwise proper restriction requirement between product claims and process claims may be maintained.

Withdrawn process claims that are not commensurate in scope with an allowable product claim will not be rejoined. See MPEP § 821.04(b). Additionally, in order to retain the right to rejoinder in accordance with the above policy, applicant is advised that the process claims should be amended during prosecution to require the limitations of the product claims. Failure to do so may result in a loss of the right to rejoinder. Further, note that the prohibition against double patenting rejections of 35 U.S.C. 121 does not apply where the restriction requirement is withdrawn by the examiner before the patent issues. See MPEP § 804.01.

7. Applicant is reminded that upon the cancellation of claims to a non-elected invention, the inventorship must be amended in compliance with 37 CFR 1.48(b) if one or more of the currently named inventors is no longer an inventor of at least one claim remaining in the application. Any amendment of inventorship must be accompanied by a request under 37 CFR 1.48(b) and by the fee required under 37 CFR 1.17(i).
